

Optimizing Customer Engagement for Government

Government organizations are under tremendous budget pressure to find ways to do more with less. At the same time, constituent expectations for government-provided services are increasing. Fortunately, a new generation of customer engagement technologies and approaches are now available that can help government and NGO organizations improve service levels while reducing costs. Eventus Solutions Group is a SBA-certified small business that helps its clients optimize the ways they engage with their customers over the phone, the Internet, via social networks & mobile applications. Our Government Services Division provides our government clients with unique, cost effective solutions for proactive outreach as well as responsive service.
